at 0400 on Thursday 16 Dec 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Largely dry with clear spells. Frost and fog patches overnight.

Today:
Rather cloudy over western hills, although any light rain and drizzle gradually reducing through the day. Generally drier and brighter in the east, but chilly to start with a few fog patches. Maximum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Tonight:
Dry, with prolonged clear spells and light winds. This will make for a chilly night with patches of frost and fog forming later. Minimum temperature 1 deg C (34 deg F).

Friday:
Generally dry with sunny spells, but overnight fog patches are likely to be slow to clear from some areas, making it feel chilly. Fog quickly reforming in the evening. Maximum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Rather cloudy but dry this weekend. However, any significant cloud breaks overnight will allow fog and frost to form. Sunny spells Monday, but the odd light shower too. Becoming cooler.
